A southern journal's idea of political economy is to run a campaign without a brass band.

Louisville wants a visit from the President when he goes on his Western tour in September.

The Young Men's Commercial Club, of Louisville, opened its rooms Tuesday evening with addresses and music to wind up on.

Perhaps the reason of Boston's cultured people going wild over Queen Kapiolani was because her skin is about the color of baked beans.—Plain Dealer.

The Texas prohibitionists propose to carry the State by 25,000 majority. Notwithstanding the State has suffered a great deal from droughts, there seems to be a determination to make the whole dry.

"Oh, you cruel thing!" exclaimed a lady to a gentleman as he lifted a puddle over a brook by its tail, while at the same time she swung her little child by one arm.—Commercial.

There is no law against partiality. An exchange says Sam Jones refused to address a gathering of newspaper men in Boston. There is nothing worthy of comment in this. Mr. Jones' work is confined exclusively to the saving of sinners.—Free Lance.

Six wagon-loads of gambling paraphernalia were burned in the streets of Atlanta Tuesday morning by order of the city authorities. Some of her citizens will probably have to get down to honest labor during the heated term.

The cultivated smile is one of the latest features in Eastern society. It is imported from Kentucky, and has a decidedly Bourbon flavor.—Nashville Union.

If the prohibition movement continues the imported luxuries will grow beautifully less.

The finest summer hotel in New England is being built on Mount Hugging, N. H. It ought to rival Niagara and Mount Vernon as a resort for bridal couples.—Alta California.

Give those who intend to marry a showing at the best room in the house too.

The Poor's Journal sensibly suggests that the chief trouble with journalism in America seems to be that the men who know best how to run a newspaper are engaged in other lines of business—clearing land, driving express wagons, or in the embryo state of some of the other professions.

Among the newest Kentucky industries is a natural chicken incubator at Crab Orchard springs. It is so hot there that the eggs are simply left out in the air over night and next morning spring chickens are in abundance.—Commercial.

Some of the kind "now you see 'em, and now you don't see 'em," especially when you get to the table.

The following from the Abilene Reflector shows that he is well up in some things:

An observer says a woman can read deception in a man's eye, even in the dark. Of course she can. That explains why he turns his face to the wall upon retiring after an unusually long session of his lodge.

The wheat clique which has been gradually cornering the market in Chicago for some weeks past came to a sudden and unexpected collapse Tuesday, and as a result a panic ensued, which affected all the grain centers of the country. The market was "bullied" until prices reached 93½ cents. Then came the reaction. Early in the day rumors were circulated that Cincinnati banks, which were supposed to be putting up money for the combination, were getting short. These rumors were freely circulated in the pit, and a panic resulted. Prices started down, and struck the bottom—92½ cents—with a thump. The clique went wild, and failures began to be announced. Three Chicago firms went under, while others were on the ragged edge. Failures were also announced at Milwaukee and other points. At New York the market was a reflex of Chicago.—Courier-Journal.

The following is the Chicago New's idea of an imposition on the traveling public:

The American people do not take kindly to this. They are willing to pay handsomely and liberally for any service, but to be obliged to pay as a reward for civilities a portion of the salary of the person who renders them is always regarded as an imposition and an outrage.

The discussion regarding the receipts of sleeping-car conductors shows that the companies running the cars take this advantage of the generosity of the traveling public by which the salaries of their porters are paid. A porter receives $15 a month—not enough to pay for either his meals on the road, his rent, the support of his family, or the clothes the company's compels him to purchase. The living expenses of this employee of the company must be made up by the traveling public, who in paying for their berths, pay enough to cover all that a porter could be reasonably asked by the passenger to do. On a trip to New York a passenger will pay the porter more money for perhaps twenty minutes' service than the company does for his whole time in the care of its property.

Such an obligation the company has no right to impose. It is unjust to the passengers and it is contemptible to the porters, who are unpaid cast-iron rules regulating their service to the company. The duties of the porter are clearly defined, and if he is asked to do something not obligatory on him, the passenger should pay him. But for the passenger to be asked to pay 50 cents for blacking his boots, in order that 45 cents of it may pay the porter for taking care of the company's dirty linen at the end of the route, can be defended on no principle of honesty or decency. It is wholly wrong and iniquitous and should be stopped.

It is held by some church historians that the origin of celibacy among the Catholic priesthood is to be found in the rule which required the sacrifice at any moment of security, settled habits and life itself by the clergy in the cause of immortality. In the early days of the church a priest was expected and required to go out among the sick and dying, where cholera, smallpox, the black plague and other contagious diseases reigned. This wise and thoughtful men who guided the destinies of the church rightly considered it better that men who were exposed to such deadly dangers should not leave families, and the measure of prudence thus adopted grew into the rule prohibiting the marriage of priests, which has since prevailed. As the causes which originally gave meaning and force to the regulation have passed away with the spread of modern civilization, it may be that the Pope is really contemplating the abolition of this requirement. The duties of the modern priest do not call for the exercise of this practice with the same urgency as formerly, and married priests may be one of the novel, but natural, incidents of the near future.—Louisville Times.

A circular issued from the office of the G. P. A. of the L. & N. says: Mr. John H. Milliken has this day been appointed District Passenger Agent of this Company; he will have immediate supervision of passenger business in the city of Louisville and the territory South, West and East, there of, embracing Frankfort, Shelbyville, Jellico, Columbia, Tenn., Clarksville, Tenn., and Hopkinsville, Ky.

Mr. Milliken's many friends in this section gladly receive the news that he is going up the ladder of promotion at such a rapid rate, and trust that as time moves gradually along, round after round may be passed until he reaches the top.

The Hall & Ordway Manufacturing Company, of Nashville, Tenn., boots and shoes, failed Tuesday, owing to heavy losses in their business. The firm liabilities amount to $160,000, and individual liabilities to $40,000. Total assets $200,000. This is the only shoe manufacturing in the South, and was believed to be doing a good business.

At a meeting of wholesale liquor dealers held in Louisville Monday, the action of the Manufacturers' Association in deciding to shut down for one year was endorsed, and a resolution passed agreeing not to purchase any whisky distilled during the period of suspension. Thus the stillness of the still will not be disturbed.

Hon. Jno. Feland Withdraws.

The withdrawal of Mr. Feland from the race of Attorney General on the Republican ticket is somewhat of a surprise. Mr. Feland's reasons are, first: That the canvass will necessarily demand his attention during July court, and second, the main reason is, the position of the party on the Labor question in Kentucky. As Mr. Feland introduced a bill into the Senate favoring the working of convicts in mines, which he still endorses he can not join hands with others on the ticket, who oppose the opinions he advocated. Mr. Feland added great strength to the ticket, and his place will not be easily filled.

"Imitation is the sincerest Flattery"

If the above quotation is true, then Dr. E. V. Pierce ought to feel highly flattered, on account of the many imitators of his popular remedy, the "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," for they have scores of imitators, but never an equal, for the cure of sick and bilious headache, constipation, impure blood, kidney pains, internal fever and all bowdler complaints. With a bottle of the sugar-coated granules in the house, you can dispense with the family doctor and his often nauseous medicines.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Pennsylvania Republican convention will probably be held in Harrisburg August 17.

Congressman Morrill finds a very bitter fight progressing between the Blaine and Sherman factions in New York.

There have been two new cases of yellow fever, at Key West, Fla., since Sunday, and one patient has been discharged from the hospital.

The features of the annual meeting of the American Paper Manufacturers' association at Saratoga July 27, will be an address by Senator Dawes on the tariff.

There is a disagreement between the Republican senate and the Democratic house of the Rhode Island legislature as to when a constitutional convention should be held.

The prohibitionists propose to spend $30,000 in this year's campaign in the state of New York. Added to what the brewers and liquor dealers will contribute, that sum ought to enliven the proceedings appreciably.

Ex-Senator Mahone and family have returned from California, and after spending a few days in Washington, will go to their handsome residence in Petersburg, Va., for a fortnight before sailing for Europe, where they will spend two years.

The title of the United States to the site of the Fort Bliss military post at El Paso, Tex., having been rectified and established in accordance with the act of congress the war department has made public the corrected boundaries of the reservation according to the survey made January 1887.

Gath quotes an ex-cabinet officer as saying: "Boh Lincoln is a great deal more of a man than he gets credit for among politicians, but I sincerely believe that he is the only man in this country to whom the presidential nomination would come without any satisfaction. I believe that he would decline it."

The president of the Lincoln club, the leading Republican organization of Cincinnati, says that Sherman "needs opposition" in order "to arouse the interest necessary to his success." As to the opposition, it looks as though he could be accommodated, but whether it will arouse interest in him remains to be seen.

Mr. and Miss Bancroft leave Tuesday next for Newport, where they will remain until fall. During the past month Mr. Bancroft could be seen every pleasant day making equestrian trips in the country. Mr. Bancroft sits his horse as steadily as any young man would, and is always accompanied by his valet whose services, however, have never been needed.

John Sherman saved the tariff from which he had been perched close off at the trunk when he confessed that the tariff laws could not control the price of labor or of anything else. It has been the staple argument of the protectionist that the tariff maintains the wages of labor, and that it alone prevents American workmen from descending to the level of the pauper laborers of Europe. But John Sherman takes the chief part away when he admits that the tariff controls the price of anything, and that wages of labor, with all other prices, are regulated by the laws of supply and demand.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

[By Glover & Durrett.]

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 3622 bbls. with receipts of 3374 bbls. for the same period. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 57,516 bbls. Outside speculators have not been quite so strong this week on our market and especially so on common tobacco. In the past 10 days the planting seasons have been quite general and it is estimated that 2½% of the intended crop is now on the hill in favorable condition. The following quotations fairly represent our market for dark tobacco:

Crash, $1 00 to $2 00.

Common to medium lugs $2 25 to 3 00.

Good lugs, $3 00 to 3 75.

Common to medium leaf, $3 00 to 5 00.

Good to fine leaf $4 50 to 7 00.

Leaf of extra length, $5 00 to 7 00.

Wrappery leaf, $7 00 to 12 00.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 18, 1882.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Have taken Hall's Catarrh Cure. Had catarrh all my life; am 43 years old. Had asthma 19 years, and a dreadful cough for five years. Have taken everything; went to the Hot Springs; I have doctored with the doctors here; I have done nothing but take medicine for 19 years. When I commenced using Hall's Catarrh Cure I was almost dead. I sent for the doctor the day I got Hall's Catarrh Cure, and I told him that I would die any way and that I would try your medicine. I was very bad. How I suffered for 9 years! I could hardly breathe at times. I saw Hall's Catarrh Cure advertised in the papers and commenced taking it. I would have been under the ground to-day if it had not been for that. I have not had one bad spell of coughing since. In breathing my head feels well and I am well. It has done me a thousand dollars worth of good. The cure is all of my friends, on seeing what I had done for me, taking it, and it is helping them. I only wish that every one who has catarrh, asthma and a bad cough could see me, so that I could tell them all to take it. All that know me here know how I have suffered. (I have been here since 1853), and say to me that "I am so glad you found something that could cure you." Everyone says, "How much better you look." The doctors say they are glad I found Hall's Catarrh Cure as they could not cure me.

I cannot express my gratitude to you for the good Hall's Catarrh Cure has done me. You can use as much of this letter as will do the afflicted good. Publish it to the whole world. It is all true and they should know it.

En-Route to Frankfort.

Sheriff of Trigg county, J. W. McKinney, and Blake Baker, one of his deputies, passed through the city Wednesday, en route to Frankfort, having in charge William Tompkins who was sentenced to the penitentiary for life last Thursday for the murder of Samuel Purly near Cornelian Springs in April last.

Tompkins claims to be entirely innocent of the crime for which he has to suffer, and says the verdict was a surprise to him as well as all his friends. That it is a persecution and that it will come when the matter will be cleared up and the real guilty party known to the world.

He is twenty-six years old, six feet high and weighs one hundred and ninety pounds. He is a widower and has one child—a boy eight years old, living in Gibson county, Tenn., where Tompkins was raised. He claims to entertain no ill-feeling to anyone and was quite cheerful while conversing, and talked freely to all who asked him any questions.

A history of the murder was given in this paper shortly after it occurred.

No Fair this Fall.

On account of the difference of opinion as to the best mode of action necessary to guarantee a Fair this fall, and the heavy expense needed to repair the grounds, all interest has faded away and all hope has been abandoned. The Fair Company has abandoned. At a meeting of the stockholders Saturday, the president, Mr. G. V. Green, resigned, as did also five directors. As it is now getting late there is not much probability that new directors will be elected and no Fair may be looked forward to this fall. The meetings of the Company have always been looked upon as annual reunions for friends of this and adjoining counties, and it is with regret that we see it sink. But as the new driving Park Co., is now making preparation for a grand meeting this fall, probably it may serve the same purpose, only give the people the benefit of some fine racing.

A notice appears in our columns of the dividend declared by the Crescent Milling Co., for the last 5 months, amounting to 6 per cent. A pretty good showing and a paying investment.
In our columns to-day appears an advertisement of White Sulphur Springs in W. Va., a watering resort that stands at the head of the list in elegance, comfort and beauty of scenery.

The time set for the meeting of the new Driving Park is Sept. 28, lasting four days. The meeting is set for a most favorable time, and comes just after the Nashville race and before the Henderson Fair, and a fine lot of speed horses can be looked for as well as good display of stock.
The following is from a letter written us by Dr. H. W. Dudley, who is an old time friend of the KENTUCKIAN, and which shows how our paper is valued in Texas:
"Please find enclosed P. O. order for subscription to KENTUCKIAN. We value your paper very highly and could not do without it. Wish you much success and prosperity."

Some of our merchants close their stores at 7 o'clock in the evening and we would like to see them all do so, thus giving their clerks time to get out in the evening and breathe a little fresh air. These long summer days after a clerk has stood at his post for about 12 hours he deserves a little recreation, and besides there is a little business done after supper that the loss to the merchant would be but little.
As the days are growing warmer, and the necessity of having our city thoroughly protected from the invasion of any contagious diseases is apparent, the sanitary laws should be strictly enforced. The police inform us that they will commence a tour of inspection in a few days and warn all persons to be ready, as no violator of the ordinance shall pass unnoticed. This law can not be too rigidly enforced as nothing is more conducive to health than breathing a pure atmosphere.

Dr. John P. Bell and Miss Mollie Radford were married Wednesday at 6:30 P. M., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W. H. Radford, at Longview. Only a few intimate friends witnessed the marriage. After the ceremony the couple and a few friends adjourned to Mr. C. D. Bell's, the father of the groom, where a reception was tendered them. Dr. Bell is a promising young doctor and his bride a highly accomplished belle of South Christiana, and a host of friends join in wishing them a long and blissful life.
The remains of eight persons were removed from the old grave yard on Jessup Avenue to the City Cemetery, Tuesday last and there re-interred. They were the bodies of the father, uncle, four brothers and two sisters of Mr. T. W. Long and brothers, of this city, and have been dead a number of years.

Mammoth Cave Excursion.
An excursion will be run from this place to the Cave, leaving Thursday morning, 30th, at 6 o'clock, provided as many as 25 people can be secured. The new railroad to the Cave makes this a pleasant one, and far more enjoyable than the old tedious stage coach. The party will arrive at the Cave at 12:25 P. M., in time for dinner, take the short route in the afternoon, the long route next day, leaving the Cave at 3:15 P. M., arriving at Hopkinsville at 8:30. Should this prove too much of a rush for some, they can remain over and return Saturday at a small additional cost at the hotel, giving more time for recreation. The entire cost of the two day's trip will be $11.35, including railroad fare, hotel, cave routes and lunch in cave. If any should want to remain over another day, the additional one day fare at the hotel will be added to the $11.35. This will be an excellent opportunity for all who have never been to the Mammoth Cave to go, and a good number of both old and young are expected. Those who intend going will please leave their names at the KENTUCKIAN office in order that they may be provided for.
With Suicidal Intent.
Miss Mary E. Sadtler, a daughter of Mr. James Sadtler, of this county, went to Madisonville last Monday expecting to meet and marry a young railroad man, who had set the time and place of meeting. On arriving she failed to find the man on whom she had bestowed her affections, but instead received a telegram requesting her to return to Hopkinsville and he would then join her and that they would then marry. She complied by returning only to find disappointment again staring her in the face. On the following day she went into Mr. J. F. Hord's store and while telling her troubles became suddenly very sick. Constable Wiley, who was present discovered a package in her hand, and upon investigation found that it contained a vial of laudanum, about half of which had been used. She claimed to have purchased it in Madisonville, and it bore the label of a Madisonville druggist. It was evident that she had taken an over-dose. She was quite sick during the balance of the day, but has about recovered. On being questioned by her uncle, who arrived in the afternoon "whether or not she had taken the poison and if so, for what purpose?" She replied, "I did, and expected to have been dead before now."
Miss Sadtler is a lady of much beauty and excellent character and her attempt to take her own life has not only been a severe shock to her relatives, but to the whole community in which she lives.

Interesting Services at the First Presbyterian Church.

Last Sunday was set apart for children's day, at the above church, and services of quite an interesting character were held. The morning was devoted to an impressive sermon to the children and parents, which was highly appreciated. In the afternoon the children were addressed by Mr. May, whose text was "Learn of Me." The exercises were interspersed with singing and reading, and were highly instructive as well as enjoyable. Mrs. M. N. Roach presented the Sunday School with a life size portrait of Judge J. I. Lauder, who has acted in the capacity of superintendent for several years. The picture was by a New York artist, and was a surprise to the school.

Turmpike Construction.

In the absence of Mr. E. D. Sparr, Engineer of the Turnpike Company, who was called away Tuesday, by the illness of his father. Mr. A. V. Townes, accompanied by Sam C. Mercer, Jr., Willie Nourse and Archie Gant began on Wednesday morning to lay the stakes for the contractors guidance along the road to Fairview. Mr. Howard, of A. B. Howard & Co., the contractors who have the work in charge, arrived Tuesday from Jeffersonville, Indiana, to make arrangements for beginning work at once. The contractor comes well recommended as competent and reliable, having long experience and is well equipped for the business. The road will be turmpiked to the corporate limits of Fairview. It runs through an excellent farming country and is one of the most valuable feeders of the Hopkinsville Market.
It will be of immense benefit to the whole country along the line and will enable travel and traffic to go on without interruption in the worst seasons of the year. Farmers will be able to haul produce here when the weather will not permit other outdoor labor. The distance from the Aylam gate to the western limits of Fairview is 18 1/2 miles by the Engineer's measurement. There is an abundance of rock along the entire line, and it occupies the road bed for considerable distances. It will not be long before farmers and teamsters will make this turmpike a frequent topic of conversation and they will wonder how they ever managed to get along without it. The opposers of turmpikes may as well make up their minds to take a back seat with the opposers of newspapers, school-houses, respers, mowers and other modern improvements. It is a pity that men should be so ignorant as to fight against the world's progress, but it cannot be helped. The world will manage to get along without them. Men of enterprise will soon come to heed their grumbling, and at last from sheer fatigue the grumblers will cease to make a noise. The turmpikes will overpower all opposition and soon be immensely popular.

He Had Catarrh.

HAMPTON STA., TENN., Feb. 26, '87. Gentlemen—I have had catarrh for over three years. For three years I had pains over my eyes. I often could not open my eyes, and being able to breathe through my nose. I was not able to smell anything for three years. In this sad plight, last spring, I began taking S. S. S. I took one dozen bottles. The pains left my forehead, my smelling faculty returned and I could sleep soundly. This is the happy result of your medicine. I have felt no symptoms of the return of the disease until the very wet and cold season set in, and even then, I was so much better than I had been for three years, that I felt like a different man. I am going to take a few bottles this spring, so as to completely eradicate every remnant of the disease. My general health is greatly improved since I began taking your medicine, and my disordered kidneys restored to their normal functions. My digestion is now first-class, and I can eat anything I wish, whereas before I took S. S. S., such was not the case.
Yours truly,
J. B. ALLEN.

Death of An Old Citizen.

Mr. John W. Pyle, died at his home, a few miles north of Shiloh, Tuesday last, in the 74th year of his age. He was the father of A. W. and J. F. Pyle, who are in the mercantile business here and was an honest, upright gentleman, who had many friends and no enemies. He had been in feeble health for some time and his death was not unexpected. He leaves a host of friends and number of relatives to mourn their loss.
His remains were brought to the city Wednesday and interred in the City Cemetery.

A fellow having three canary fortune-telling birds "died" the city yesterday.

Quite a number had their "past and future" told by these little pets to the amusement of the large crowd that stood around all day.
A notice was received by the postmaster yesterday that a reward of $150.00 would be paid for the return of a horse and the thief who stole him to the owner of the horse, whose residence is in Bartonia, Indiana.

There were three cases before the city court yesterday—two for a breach of the peace and one for petit larceny.

In the former cases fees were assessed and in the latter the accused was discharged.

Tremble Ahead.

When the appetite fails, and sleep comes and goes, and the head is in a tremble ahead. This digestive organs, when healthy, serve food to the nervous system, when vigorous and tranquil, gives its possessor no unusual amount of energy. A tonic to be effective should not be a mere appetizer, nor the service to be strengthened, but the entire system of the digestive organs, as well as other parts of the physical organism, are strengthened. There are the effects of Fowler's Kidney Pills, a medicine whose reputation is founded firmly in public confidence, and which physicians commend for its tonic, purgative and other properties. It is used with the best results in liver and acute, rheumatism, kidney and uterine weakness, and other maladies.
